(ORAL ORDER)
(Passed on 15th February, 2006)

The following order of the Court was passed by

Dilip Raosaheb Deshmukh, J.

The only point urged in this appeal for enhancement of compensation is that the learned MACT has not taken into consideration the grievous injury sustained by the appellant in the accident and has awarded the compensation of Rs.3,05,000/- only. However, learned counsel appearing for the appellant admits that no permanent disability was suffered by the appellant in the accident. He further admits that no medical evidence was adduced by the appellant in this regard. In that view of the matter, the award passed by the learned MACT granting compensation of Rs.3,05,000/- cannot be faulted with. The appeal is devoid of merit and it is accordingly dismissed. No costs.
